Alumni Chronicles

Ms. Ayushi Singhai
(Batch 2022–24)
Finance Analyst, Mott MacDonald

Being an alumna of GSIMR is a matter of pride, as it has been an important part of my academic and professional development.

My MBA experience helped me strengthen my analytical abilities, develop a practical understanding of business, and build the confidence to take on professional challenges. The learning environment, faculty mentorship, and collaborative experiences provided me with valuable insights that continue to guide my career.

As a Finance Analyst at Mott MacDonald, I carry forward the knowledge and competencies gained during my time at college. I am grateful to my institution for contributing to my growth and providing a foundation for continued learning and professional success.

Visionary Alumnus

Mr.Anand Agrawal (Batch 1997–99)
Entrepreneur
Partner – Agrawal Agro Agencies & Earth Agrichem Industries
Proprietor – ARKA Enterprises
Director – Finance & Logistics, Vedanta Agrichem Pvt. Ltd.

My journey from the classrooms of GSIMR to the world of corporate leadership and entrepreneurship has been a rewarding experience. My time at GSIMR laid a strong foundation for my professional growth, helping me develop the business acumen, management perspective, and confidence that have guided me throughout my career. It is a pleasure to look back on my journey as a member of the 1997–99 batch and to remain connected with thes institution.

I began my professional journey with reputed organisations such as Colgate-Palmolive, Philips India Ltd., and Future Generali India Ltd. (General Insurance).

Driven by my entrepreneurial vision, I eventually ventured into business and have since been actively involved in the agrochemical and agricultural distribution sector. Through these ventures, I am involved in business management, financial operations, warehousing, logistics, and the supply chain and distribution of agricultural products.

I would like to emphasis that success is not achieved overnight. In today's rapidly evolving and competitive business environment, students need more than academic knowledge; they need adaptability, leadership qualities, critical thinking, and a willingness to embrace change. An MBA provides a strong foundation, but the real difference lies in how effectively you apply your knowledge and skills. My journey has also been shaped by all these factors.

Key Learnings:

- Observed soybean processing stages, including cleaning, crushing, flaking, oil extraction and refining.
- Understood quality checks at different stages to maintain product standards.

- Observed automated oil packaging and steam-based machinery used in TVP production.
- Learned how processing by-products are utilised in industries such as animal feed, candles and cosmetics. The visit provided valuable industrial exposure, helping students connect classroom concepts with practical applications in production management, quality assurance, operational efficiency and sustainable manufacturing.
